Passport System May GOOD CHEER Soon Be Abolished

Russia Has Already Acted Toward Natives, and Foreign Abelition Will Follow.

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 24 -Russia is on the eve of abolishing the passport sys-The matter has already been deided in principle by the commission which is investigating the passport question. A new law will be promulgated by the Senate within six weeks, as one of the solid reforms resulting from the adminis-tration of Interior Minister Sviatopolk-Mirsky.

For the present the abolition of the passport system will only apply to Russlans and not to foreigners, although it is intended at the end of the war to abolish the system governing foreigners also. The state tax on the latter, however, will be removed, leaving only Red Cross and invalid taxes.

Abolition of the passport system in Russia will work a complete revolution not only in removing every individual in the empire from constant surveillance by the police, but in many other ways increasing personal freedom.

It is impossible under the present system for a peasant to leave a commune without an indorsed passport or for a divorced wife to leave the husband's roof without his permission. The abolition, so far as tourists are concerned, will be a great convenience, but it will have no such deep and material significance as in the case of Russians.

The present passport system constitutes more annoyance than the actual restriction of legitimate tourists. No hotel or lodging-house in the empire is permitted to receive a guest overnight without his submitting a passport to the police for view both on arrival and departure, neither native nor foreigner can leave the country without permission of the police for view both on arrival and apasport, and a native must secure a special passport costing 57.50 before he can go abroad.

The penalty for a native evading this law is exceedingly drastic, including corporal punishment if captured.

Foreign commercial travelers at present are also heavily handicapped by the passport system. Their vocations must be stated in a passport, and especial license, which costs $25.18 exacted before they can transact business in the rountry. Whether this license will be modified with the abolition of the pussport, it is impossible at present to say.
